Dear Professor Stanfield:

As you are aware Mr. Edward J. Green, Personal Assistant to General Eisenhower, has forwarded to this Agency your letter of December 4, 1952, to the President-elect. General Smith has asked me to advise you that one of our people will call on you in the near future at your convenience. He will, of course, have means of readily identifying himself as a bona fide officer of this Agency and you may be assured that any information imparted to him will be handled with the proper security precautions.

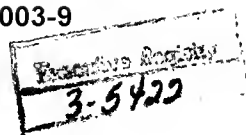

You will understand, I am sure, that this Agency has no knowledge of the attitude of the new administration concerning the country you mention.

Sincerely,

SIGNED

Mr. Leland Stowe

Dear Mr. Stowe:

Mr. Dulles has been called away from the City for a couple of weeks and I am therefore acknowledging your recent letter with its most suggestive enclosure.

I am referring it to the appropriate people with the request that they let me have their recommendations as to what action, if any, might be taken to meet this apparent demand for inexpensive materials.

Thank you very much indeed for passing this on to us.

Sincerely,

(Signature)

Assistant to Mr. Dulles
